To judge from the short and exceedingly unsatisfactory despatches the hurricane must have been of terrific force, for of all the shipping there it is reported that not a single vessel was able to ride out the gale, and every one of them was driven ashore. It is believed that a large number of these essels are so badly damaged or lie in such bad positions that they will be surrendered to the underwriters.

At Fort de France alone there have been twelve lives lost, and in both Fort de France and St. Pierre, to say nothing of the country choice, both being quoted at 8 to 1, while the districts, there have been large numbers of people injured.

At St. Pierre five persons are known to have been killed.

It is also known that the Italian brig Amiciza, Capt. Matarazzo, from Marseilles May 25, is among the vessels driven ashore. The despatch makes no reference to loss o life among the ships' crews, and there is great anxiety.

The latest report at St. Pierre from La mentin shows that there are ten victims in that place alone, in addition to a large num ber of injured.

Early during the morning of May 19 some dockyard laborers saw a black painted sallor's bag floating in Hardon Dock.

They pulled it out of the water and saw that it was marked "T. A. M. Girvan," and that it was decorated with the British and Norwegian ensigns crossed.

Upon opening the bag the workman were horrified to find that it contained the body of a boy about fifteen years of age, whose throat had been cut from ear to ear, and whose legs were missing from below the knees.

Mr. A. A. Smith, a medical student, has had a conference with Almy. He says Almy told him he did not mean to kill Christle. He says he fired the first shot accidentally, which threw him into a freizy; then he shot her again. If Mrs. Warden, he said, had invited him to the house he should have gone right along and there would have been no trouble. he could not leave the place, and came back again.

"While I was talking with him I could at times almost persuade him to surrender, then he would ask some question about the Warden family, after which he would say that he would not give himself up. He was smooth-shaven, except a heavy mustache, and he looked pale and thin."

At 1 o'clock the decision was reached by the Citizens' Committee to catch Almy unawares and snoot him and thus put an end to what was becoming a grim farce. When this conclusion was made known it was greeted with yells of delight by the people, who, though strongly inclined to let the law take its course, had lost patience with this parleying with the assassin.

The officers attacked the barn with Winchester rifies and Almy retaliated with shot after shot from his revolvers.

At 1.15 P. M. Almy was overpowered and taken to the Wheelock House, where he was confined upstairs. Half a dezen officers with drawn revolvers stood at the foot of the stairs holding back the excited crowd.

Great Bookmakers' Day at Jerome Park.

KITTY T.'S FRANK OWNER.

Mr. Lorillard Secures the Two Lambleys for the Season.

It was bookmakers' day at Jerome Park resterday. The sport began with a very long shot winning. Spendonet, a brother to Golden Reel, with odds ranging from 25 to 100 to 1, won, with Glamour, another outcond. This race alone gave the bookmakers a big start for the day. It is safe to say that many of them had clean sheets. This was followed in the second race by Sir George going down, and Beansey, who was well played, won easily. Again in the third an outsider won, and, in fact, Cynosure was the only favorite of the day that rewarded his backers; and had Hamilton, who rode that old horse Esquimau. of laying away back until the last quarter was reached, Esquiman would have won the

The day's sport was brought to a close with an exciting steeplechase, in which there were two accidents. Benefit, with Grace up, in passing through the south field the first time, stumbled and Grace took a a header on the turt. The horse then jumped paddock. Grace got up unhurt, John Henshaw, who rode Wheatley, was not so for-tunate. He was in the front ranks until the next to the last jump, when the horse fell and Henshaw's foot was caught in the stirrup. The herse jumped up and dragged Henshaw at least 100 yards, and it looked from the stand as though the horse was treading on him at every jump. Many turned their faces away, for the sight made them faint. Henshaw regained consciousness after about half an hour, but refused to go to a hospital preferring to go to his quarters on the track. chaser, and is the same that Harry Har rode to his death on at Washington se years ago. This old horse Wheatley, is an old steeple

Jerome is not the same as Morris Park or some of the other tracks, as far as the grand stand and other structures are concerned, but there is one thing they have got which many of the other tracks are sadly in need of, and that is quick transportation.

Many will remember that once promising and well-known jockey George Church. He had been alling for a long time, from the effects of over indulgence in stimulants and was found dead in his cot at the Hariem Hospital yesterday. Green Morris once remarked that Church was the best judge of pace of any jockey in America. He did not seem to be capable of judging his own pace, however.

The running of Pearl Set at Morris Park Tuesday is being investigated and Jockey H. Anderson's license has been revoked by the Board of Control until the investigation is finished.

Mr. A. J. Joyner, better known as "Jack"
Joyner, put up $100 at 40 to 1 on Spendonet in the first race yesterday. Again he had a swell bet on his own horse, Eros, in the fourth. He was one of the few who made any money yesterday. Mr. Lorillard has secured from Mr. Daly first call on the outside mounts of the two Lambleys for the balance of the season at $1,000 each. $1,000 each.

Mr. Frank Ehret will entertain his numerous friends at a clambake at Morris Park on Sunday next. Trains will leave the Mott Haven depot hourly after 10.45 and return at convenient hours.

Mr. S. Loates, the English jockey who was refused a license in England, was a visitor at Jerome Park yesterday.

Saratoga had a day of upsets yesterday. Castaway II., Uncle Sim and Judge Morrow were beaten by outsiders.

The three-year-old stallion Faustino trotted a mile in 2.18 at Chicago yesterday.
